Open Arbury Hills Fall Kindergarten

The Arbury Hills Kindergarten Organization is happy to announce the successful completion of its first summer program. The eight week session was under the leadership of Mrs. Homar Howard, Joliet.

Graduation day came Friday, Aug. 2, at which time the mothers of the school children attended a party. The children were then given an opportunity to show some of the things they had learned and made. This shortened kindergarten program has been deemed a great success by the students, parents and all those connected with it, and it is considered to have been very good preparation for the first grade these children have begun this fall.

The community is now looking forward to the full-term session that will open this fall, and will again be held in the Summit-Hill School.

This session is to be incorporated into the regular school program and the direction and supervision of its operation will then be the responsibility of Supt. Wrath, the Summit-Hill School Board. Financial responsibilities will again be undertaken by the Arbury Hills Kindergarten Organization however, and enrollment will be limited according to the direction of the state.

Mrs. Howard wishes to temporarily interrupt her teaching career to take additional university courses. The Organization has therefore employed another teacher, Mrs. Martha Richert from Chicago Heights.

Mrs. Richert comes to this school with 12 years experience in substitute and full-time teaching in Illinois schools. She has a Bachelor of Education degree from Western Illinois State Teachers' College.

The substitute teacher will be Mrs. Charles Hecht who resides in Arbury Hills. Kindergarten opened Tuesday, Sept. 3 at 8:45 a.m.

Burglars Burn Safe

A panel truck and safe stolen from the Sheldon Heating & Cooling Co., of 1200 W. 171st street, East Hazel Crest, that was stolen sometime Wednesday night or early Thursday morning of last week was found on 104th avenue near 187th st., east of Mokena.

Representatives of the firm said there was no money in the safe and theorized that the burglars set its contents on fire and burned the truck out of anger at the absence of cash.

It was believed that the thieves sprayed the tires with gasoline because they were burned to ash.

It was believed that the truck was set on fire sometime early last Thursday morning. The books and accounts in the safe were still smoldering at 9 o'clock.

Oliver Saxton, who lives nearby noticed the condition of the truck when he passed along the road around 8 a.m. and reported it to Mokena police chief, Roy Newton. The sheriff's office also was notified.

Propose Forcing Owners To Burn Dead Elms

(CNS) - The County Board of Commissioners next week will vote on a proposed ordinance to force owners of diseased Elm trees to remove or burn them at their own expense.

Inspections of the trees will be made by the County Building department and if disease is found, the tree will be declared to be a public nuisance.

The owner will then receive a notice requiring him to destroy the tree within ten days of service. If the owner does not remove the tree, the building department will do so and assess the cost.

The disease, Dutch Elm Disease, is caused by the European and native Elm Bark Beetle, which carries the fungus which infects the trees. There is no known cure for the disease.

According to Noel B. Wy-song, chief forester of the Forest Preserve District, 6900 Elm trees were destroyed in the forest preserve alone last year, with more than 7000 expected to be destroyed by December.

The City of Chicago destroyed 2088 in 1962, according to Fred R. Thomas, city superintendent of forestry and parkways.

Inspection will be aided by the services of the Applied Botany and Plant Pathology section of the Illinois Natural History Survey, who at one time, examined specimens for the City.

Northeastern Area Group Gets Grant For Planning

A planning assistance grant of $148,268 to the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has been announced by the urban renewal administration of the housing and home finance agency. The URA administers the federal urban planning assistance program, under which grants may be made to local agencies for two-thirds the cost of planning work.

The one-year grant, supplemented by $74,135 in local contributions, will aid the commission in completing the first stage of a program for preparing a comprehensive metropolitan plan of land use, transportation and public facilities. It will also provide essential data to local governments for their own planning use.

The Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission is the official advisory agency established by the Illinois legislature in 1957 to guide efforts aimed at solving area-wide planning problems in Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake, McHenry, and Will counties. Projects made possible by the grant include a survey of projected capital expenditures to determine the intentions of local governments on spending for public improvements; a survey of recent land use changes in Northeastern Illinois; a survey of industrial and commercial sites and structures, to be done in cooperation with industrial and commercial leaders of the area; a housing inventory; and a survey of the sanitary sewer network in the six-county area.

The grant will also help the Commission employ the new findings, together with other data, in a first formulation of alternative development policies for the metropolitan area.

The new projects will be described at the sixth annual metropolitan area planning conference, to be held at the Morrison Hotel, Chicago, on Sept. 25, according to Paul Oppermann, executive director of the commission.

"One of the highlights of the conference will be a report to the citizens and local officials of Northeastern Illinois on our procedure for bringing the metropolitan area plan to completion," Oppermann said.

Hospital Joins Cooperative Blood Replacement Program

Unlimited blood replacements are now offered to Joliet blood donors and their families, it was announced by Sister M. Theresa, R.N., administrator of St. Joseph hospital as that institution became the 37th participating hospital blood bank in the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan.

Dr. Werner Fleischer, hospital pathologist states participation in the Replacement Plan is an added service to the residents of Joliet by permitting them to provide for unlimited blood replacements for themselves and their families. At the same time this program will help the hospital meet its responsibility in having blood available at all times for the people of Joliet.

The Replacement Plan, established in 1957, now has 37 metropolitan hospitals and blood banks working toward a community blood program. Designed to provide a common incentive for a person to be a blood donor, and to make his blood donation at his neighborhood blood bank; the Replacement Plan has assisted these 37 hospitals to obtain blood donors. Acceptance of the Replacement Plan by the public is indicated by the 9,000 families (approximately 36,000 persons) that presently belong.

A single blood donation will assure unlimited blood replacements for a family for one year, it was stated. A husband and wife are covered for a two year period, or an individual for a four year period. Persons who qualify for membership but who cannot make a blood donation may join by paying a benefit fee of $10.

Membership is open to all except those who presently have a known blood disorder such as hemophilia, leukemia, cancer, etc. However, if a member contracts any of these diseases, he will be eligible for unlimited blood replacements.

Expectant parents can join the family membership up to the onset of labor, and be provided unlimited blood replacements should they be required. Mothers who have had previous Caesarian sections or parents with known Rh factor problems are eligible for unlimited replacements.

Further information may be obtained by calling Blood Donor Service at St. Joseph Hospital. Appointments for donations may be made.

Computers Make Student Scheduling A Fast Job

Can you imagine scheduling a school of 1,000 students in less than two minutes? Lincoln-Way High School did it, using data processing high speed computers.

Said Donald D'Amico, assistant superintendent: "The transition from manual class scheduling to data processing is a unique, exhilarating experience. Its uniqueness is matched with less cost and an extreme reduction in perfunctory paper work."

Data processing, or processing data, is not a new idea. Schools have been using the most rudimentary system of data processing - clerical labor. In fact, it has been said that the most efficient data processing system is that done by an efficient clerk.

The major difference between data processing systems is the time factor. The IBM 7074 electronic computer handles data with phenomenal speed. In registering the 1,000 students in our school, less than two minutes were required. This same task took one secretary an entire summer. Lincoln-Way high school does not own or operate its own equipment, but rather has contracted this service thru a data processing service bureau.

In essence, a school large or small can use data processing, without buying or leasing expensive equipment, hiring special personnel to operate the machinery, and without any special technical knowledge necessary. Research cost studies indicate the new method has saved taxpayers dollars.

Work on the addition to Willow Crest school at Mokena was begun by Mazzucco Construction Co. of Joliet, whose bid of $194,000 was the lowest of 10 submitted to the board of education.

It also built the addition to Culbertson school on the Joliet east side and the addition to Forest Park school in the northeast section of Joliet. The firm also built the Cathedral of St. Raymond Nonatus for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Joliet.

In submitting its bid Mazzucco said it would have the job completed in 150 working days. The other bids submitted on
